

ANOTHER TRIUMPH FOR ELECTRICITY

The passing of the first electric train through the great Hoosac railroad tunnel, in Western Massachusetts (four and three-quarters miles long) was celebrated fittingly by a party of railroad officials and newspaper men. The Hoosac tunnel is the longest tunnel in the world to be operated electrically.

ALL AGOG OVER
OUSTING PASTOR

Warrenton Stirred as It Has
Not Been for Years by Church Sensation.

Warrenton, Va., August 9.—It looks as though the Southern Methodist Church of this town is doomed to go under, and if this happens it will be because of the activity of Rev. Dr. F. J. Pretzman, presiding elder of the Washington district, in his prosecution of the charge against Rev. Dr. J. O. Knott.

This was the statement of A. W. Strother, trustee and superintendent of the Sunday-school of the Warrenton Methodist Episcopal Church, South, presided over by Dr. Knott until he was expelled from the ministry and the church last week by the ecclesiastical court in Washington.

Warrenton is stirred as it has not been for years over the sensational charge which resulted in the dismissal of Dr. Knott, and feeling is bitter, especially among the congregation of the church, against Dr. Pretzman, who is held responsible by many Warrentonians for the unwelcome manner in which the charge has been brought into the limelight.

Dr. Knott, when seen here last night, declared in words full of suppressed bitterness that Dr. Pretzman had prejudiced his case and had disregarded the verdict of the entire official body of the Warrenton church, which believes in the innocence of the pastor.

Will He Acquitted, He Believes.

"I feel confident," said Dr. Knott, "that if justice is done the verdict of the ecclesiastical court will be reversed by the board of appeals of the conference. Just when that board will meet I am unable to say."

When questioned concerning the trial, which was before a body of thirteen ministers, presided over by Bishop Collins Denney as judge, Dr. Knott was caustic in his criticism.

The charge, which brought in the name of a young woman well known here, was sustained by the court upon evidence which Dr. Knott characterized as not only unfounded, but as absolutely disproved by the facts.

He was concerned. "The prosecution and the general situation were prejudicial to my interest," he declared, emphatically, then added: "and Dr. Pretzman practically constituted the prosecution. Before the official trial was ordered a committee of fifteen officials of our church here met Dr. Pretzman and went over the entire case with him."

"This same committee later went to Washington and appeared before the board of investigation, consisting of Messrs. J. H. Wells and R. L. Fultz, of Alexandria. The committee, knowing the nature of the evidence expected that the case would end then, but the trial was ordered in spite of them."

Congregation to Sell Church.

The feature of the situation is that the congregation of the church has taken steps through the trustees, to dispose of the entire church property, worth more than $25,000, rather than remain under the authority of Dr. Pretzman. This property, including both church and parsonage, is still in process of construction. It is subject to several liens, but these, the members of the congregation declare, would have been met had not their pastor been dismissed. Now, however, they say that they will face the practical certainty of the dissolution of the church rather than remain under the present system.

Dr. Pretzman was here Monday to conduct the regular quarterly conference, when he was served with a court process, notifying him that suit had been brought against him by the deposed pastor for alleged defamation of Dr. Knott's character. This action, according to the statement of Dr. Knott's attorney, is independent of the recent trial in Washington, and is based upon remarks reported to have been made by Dr. Pretzman while here previous to the trial.

While Dr. Knott did not originate the civil action against Dr. Pretzman, he declared that he had followed the advice of his former congregation and had allowed his name to be used.

The presiding elder came here Sunday to hold services, to be followed by the conference Monday. The congregation failed to appear Sunday, and Monday the officials did not show up, so Dr. Pretzman returned to Washington at noon without having met the representatives of the church.

Dr. Knott will remain in Warrenton for the present, but seems uncertain as to his future movements.

TREATIES DO NOT MEET APPROVAL

Washington, August 9.—Friends of the British and French limitation treaties in the senate have reached the conclusion that it will be necessary to amend the convention in order to get favorable action upon them. This conclusion is the result of the consideration of the documents by the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations, which has taken them up in session.

After two prolonged sittings the committee adjourned late today to meet again Saturday. Both meetings were devoted to the consideration of the documents on their merits, the first in company with Secretary of State, and the second by the members themselves without the secretary's aid.

Special action was made to the provision submitting questions of difference to the joint high commission of inquiry, but also was found with the provision in the French treaty authorizing ratification by that government in accordance with the procedure required by the laws of France and with the condition in the British treaty that matters affecting dependencies of Great Britain shall be submitted to the government of such dependencies. It was thought that the latter clause might lead to undesirable complications, while it was feared that the former might necessitate a change in the method of proceedings in this country.

Despite all these objections it became evident, however, that the power conferred upon the joint commission is the only real basis for action. The members of the committee expressed themselves as friendly to the general proposition involved in the treaties, and some declared that with a few changes it might be possible to get favorable action during the present session, especially if it should be prolonged to any extent.

MAX NORDAU ADDRESSES CONGRESS OF ZIONISTS

Basel, Switzerland, August 9.—The tenth Zionist Congress opened at the City Casino today, with 599 delegates, representing nearly every part of the globe, taking part, and about 2,000 spectators in the galleries. David Wolffsohn, of Cologne, the president and chairman of the executive committee, opened the proceedings.

Mr. Wolffsohn, in welcoming the delegates, reviewed the immense progress of the Zionist movement since its inception, despite the great obstacles of the opposition.

He declared that it was the ardent desire of the Zionists to become a loyal and useful part of the Ottoman Empire, which, throughout history and at present, ent, he said, had been exceedingly kind to the Jews. The president outlined the work of the congress, the purpose of which is to strengthen the organization. The delegates received the speech with enthusiasm.

Dr. Max Nordau followed with an address depicting in the darkest tints the present situation of the Jews in Eastern Europe. Nothing was left for them, he said, but to work out their own salvation, and the Zionist hope is the hope of these Jews who wish to live. Nordau was very optimistic of the possibilities of realizing the Zionist ideal.

Nordau was elected president of the congress, and the first session ended by the adoption of a resolution to give $1,000 to the victims of the recent fire in Constantinople and the approval of a telegram of condolence to the Turkish government.

Among the delegates are Professor Otto Warburg, of Berlin; Professor Kellner, of Austria; and Dr. Alexander Marmorek, of Paris. America is represented by Professor Harry Friedman, of Johns Hopkins University; Professor Richard K. H. Goldfish, of Columbia University; A. L. Kohn, of New York; Dr. Smilnow, of Cincinnati; Dr. Israel Friedlander, the Orientalist, of New York; Max Shulman, grand master of the Order of Knights of Zion, Western Federation of Chicago, and B. Horvitch, vice-grand master of the same body.

Philadelphia, Pa., August 9.—Baltimore and Philadelphia vied with one another in giving Admiral Cogo an enthusiastic welcome to-day. After five hours of public receptions, tours through steel works and foundries, a cruise on Chesapeake Bay and a Marathon automobile trip around the city of Baltimore, the Japanese naval commander arrived here in a private car at 6 o'clock to-night.

Thousands of people crowded the station and many more lined Broad Street to welcome the admiral and his suite in two automobiles escorted by a squad of galloping police to the hotel. The admiral saw a big sign on the city hall, reading "Welcome Togo," and looked with pleasure on the scores of Japanese flags that adorned the buildings.

To-night Admiral Togo rested, his program calling for an evening's respite for the first time in several days. To-morrow he will visit Philadelphia's shipyards and industrial plants along the river front. He also will inspect the navy yard.
